B.-P. HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION AGREE TO FINISH PRIMARY ROADS FIRST

(Written by R. E. Burdick who attended the meeting.)

At the meeting of the Buffalo-Pittsburgh Highway Association on the evening of April 12th held in Bradford, Pa., the following announcement was made:

"It is agreed and by common consent it is understood that we expect the completion of the stretch of highway between Mt. Jewett and Kasson and from Farmers Valley to Larabee, and also the stretch between Larabee and Port Allegany to be provided for before we build from Lig Shanty to Mt. Jewett. When the B-P. Highway Committee went before Commissioner Wright many weeks ago, they explained to him that the first stretches of highway was to be built in McKean County were the Kasson branch and the balance of the Primary Route, running east and west across the State and we expect this plan to be carried out in good faith reserving the right however that if there shall be an unwarranted delay or neglect in the completion of this stretch of highway on the part of the promoters to take up the matter of building through from Lig Shanty to Mt. Jewett, because we are not going to wait many years for the completion of this stretch of highway."

This should allay the suspicions of persons that the Association is seeking to have the road from Bradford to Mt. Jewett-Kane Highway over the route adopted by B—P several years ago built, before these links are provided for.

We should urge the East and West Route which would complete all the links between Mt Jewett and Port Allegany, the route running between Erie and Honesdale.

ALLEGED BOOTLEGGERS ARRESTED BY OFFICERS.

Two more alleged bootleggers who the police claim have been operating in Bradford for sometime, were taken in tow by State constabulary men Saturday night.

Henry and Harold Burgess, styled by police as "the elusive bootleggers" were arrested while it is alleged, they were about to deliver two jugs of home-made firewater made famous by the Volsteadian commandments, at a house on School street.

While the prisoners were being taken to the police station, Harold Burgess jumped from the machine as it was turning in Kennedy street from Foreman street and a thrilling chase followed until he was cornered after running several blocks along Kennedy street and was brought back into the machine which continued on its way to Smethport making the next stop at the county jail.

The brothers drove up to their intended destination in a Peerless sedan. They left the car and started to cross to the house, when County Detective J. J. Allison and three state policemen intercepted them and demanded that they surrender the jugs in an attempt to circumvent the raiders, the brothers dashed the jugs—a 5-gallon and a 1-gallon—to the pavement smashing them beyond hope of recovery.

In spite of the aromatic fumes of liberated hooch which assailed the nostrils of all in the neighborhood, a note of defiance crept into the attitude of the Burgess brothers, one of them asked the police if they dared arrest them while the evidence was flowing and seeping into the ground and volatilizing into nothingness.

Wise to the ways of Jus smashing bootleggers, however, the state policemen said gone to the try string place prepared for such eventualities. No sooner had the crash of the jugs announced the fact that the needed liquid evidence was going irrevocably beyond their reach, one of the men took a container from his pocket and, with the use of a handkerchief which he soaked into the flowing firewater and then wrung into the container, salvaged enough evidence to bind the jury when the brothers are hailed into court.

At Smethport the both brothers asked for a postponement of the preliminary hearing and were taken to the county bastile. Yesterday Henry was liberated on $2,500 bail while Harold is still in durance vile.

Both will appear before Justice of the Peace A. W. Cosgrove at Smethport for hearing at 5 o'clock tonight.

The state police had received a tip that a delivery of wet goods would be made at the school street house Saturday night and had come to the city to prevent the transaction.—Bradford Era. April 16

BOY HIT BY AUTO WHILE RIDING BICYCLE

Guy DiCicilia of Kasson, aged eighteen, suffered a fractured skull and numerous other injuries, Sunday P. M. at 6:15, when he was struck by a car driven by E. S. Crandall of Hazelhurst.

DiCicilia was learning to ride a bicycle on the state road near Kasson, and seeing the approaching car evidently, became confused lost his balance and fell directly in front of it, both wheels passed over the boy, and his head was injured by the radiator. He was dead before the occupants of the car reached him.

In the car were three people besides Mr. Crandall, his wife, mother, and a friend.

Mr. Crandall claims that he was not exceeding twenty miles an hour when the fatality occurred and that he tooted his horn several times.

The inquest held here Tuesday night to inquire into the death of Guy DiCicilia who was killed by an automobile driven by E. S. Crandal of Hazelhurst, Sunday afternoon, resulted in complete exoneration of the automobile driver, the jury finding that the accident was unavoidable. Acting on their own initiative members of the jury told Coroner Heffner that he should suggest to Mr. Crandall that he pay part of the funeral expenses.

Witnesses testify that the dead youth had purchased the bicycle on Friday prior to the fatal ride of Sunday afternoon that he had never ridden a bicycle before except for about an hour's practice Saturday afternoon, he fell from the wheel directly in the path of the auto which was run off the pavement in an effort to avoid running over him. The driver was not running at a rapid rate but the boy's fall occurred so quickly that it was impossible to stop the car in time to avoid the accident.

FIRE AT EAST SMETHPORT SATURDAY MORNING.

Saturday morning April 14th about eleven o'clock the fire whistle at East Smethport blew, closely followed by the siren which recently was repaired. The fire was in the creosote factory at East Smethport where the pitch used as fuel, had boiled over and set fire to the floor. The fire was a spectacular one for a short time, black smoke poured heavenward, followed by great bursts of flame.

The Smethport fire company was called, and did splendid service in preventing the fire spreading to the adjacent formaldhyde and chemical factories. Only the cresote building was destroyed and no lives were lost. The factory belonged to the Quinn interests.

The plant was a large one story building of tile, the loss estimated at $25,000 is partly covered with insurance.

Workmen began wor kMonday on the rebuilding of the plant.

SMASHUP COSTS $365 AND HOOCH.

Failure to turn off the road and let another car pass on Armistice night of 1920 resulted in a smashup which cost David Cotton and Lee Wolf $365.94 and 11 quarts of real good booze.

The high was awarded to F. J. Nichols plaintiff in a trespass case tried here today, for damages to his car which figured in the collision.

The high power liquid loss was sustained at the time of the accident according to the testimony offered by both sides in the controversy. It was testified that following the accident passengers in the Nichols automobile while investigating, discovered 11 quarts of refreshments in the Cotton car which they appropriated as partial payment for being jarred out of their seats and which they took to a remote section of the woods and used to soothe their nerves.

The accident occurred on the Smethport-Bradford road at the foot of Rew Hill. Nichols was going toward Bradford with fures in his taxi. He blew his horn several times and speeded up to pass the Cotton car which was ahead in the center of the road, he testified, but Mr. Wolf who was driving the Cotton machine, failed to drive to one side to let him pass. The crash resulted both cars being badly mutilated.

Remaining intact, the 11 bottles of booze which the Cotton-Wolf party evidently was taking to Bradford to inspire cheer in the Armistice Day celebration, were confiscated by the farts in the Nichols car.

In spite of pointed questions asked by attorneys in the case no trace of the 11 bottles was found after they had been removed from the brokendown car. One witness testified that the impromptu Armistice Day party was staged in the nearby woods and that the liquor was used. The fact that Wolf was driving the car without having a drivers license was made the main point in the summing up of the attorney for the plaintiff. The jury found for Mr. Nichols.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

MRS. LOBOUGH DIES OF BURNS.

As the result of severe burns suffered Saturday morning when her clothing caught fire at her home, No. 4 Seward avenue, Mrs. Elizabeth Lobough died in the Bradford hospital yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Lobough was engaged in her household duties on the second floor of her residence when the back of her skirt caught fire from an open gas stove in a bedroom and so rapidly did the flames spread, she was unable to check them without assistance.

Her husband was in the house but he is blind and was unable to render her much assistance. As the result of what help he did give, Mr. Lobough is suffering from slight burns.

The screams of the two people were heard by neighbors who ran to the house to aid the sufferer and soon had the flames extinguished but not before Mrs. Lobough had been burned so badly that she died about 22 hours later in the Bradford hospital, where she was taken for treatment.

Mrs. Lobough had been a resident of Bradford for the past five years. She was a member of the Lady Maccabees and of the Church of the Ascension. She leaves besides her husband, John Lobough, a son, Harry Lobough and a daughter, Mrs. Lula Given of this city. Three grandchildren also survive. Funeral services will be held at the home on Seward avenue tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. H. T. Lends of the Church of the Ascension officiating. Interment will be made in Oak Hill.

The body has been prepared for burial by undertakers Kerr and Oyler.—Era, April 16.

DROWNING THE FATE OF FATHER OF KANE-HOLM MAN

Warren Pa. April 13—The body of Thomas Rennard, of 205 Lincoln avenue, who has been missing since Tuesday night, was taken from the Allegany river near Corydon, Thursday morning. From the condition of the remains it is believed that drowning must have taken place a short time before the tragedy was discovered. Coroner Chapman after an investigation decided that there was no indication of foul play.

The deceased was born in Lycoming county, in 1846. He was well and favorably known in this community where he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Ray English, of Lincoln avenue. He was a member of the G. A. R. the Maccabees and the Grace M. E. church.

Mr. Rennard is survived by four children, L. W. Rennard of Kane-holm; C. A. Rennard of Bradford; Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Erie and Mrs. Ray English of this city several grandchildren survive.

Funeral services will be held in the Methodist church at Kinzua Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SICK MAN CARRIED ON STRETCHER THREE MILES

Charles Cooney of Kane, was taken suddenly ill with appendicitis at a drillers camp on an oil lease near Cyclone, 10 miles from Bradford.

His condition was such that it was thought he could not stand the jar of any vehicle over the woods road from the camp. So his friends to the number of fourteen took turns in carrying him carefully to the railroad where he took the train for Mt. Jewett. A motor ambulance took him from there to the Kane summit hospital, where he was operated upon, and is now well on the road to recovery.

MARMON REVIEWS FIRST QUARTER TO SHOW TRADE TREND.

Information regarding Marmon production released to Marmon distributors this week by Walter C. Marmon, president of the Nordyke and Marmon Company, substantiates in the high quality field a tendency which has been increasingly apparent since the automobile shows that 1927 would eclipse all sales and production records in the motor car business, with the possible exception of 1926.

In analyzing our results for the first quarter, says Mr. Marmon, we find that our shipments have reached more than 50 per cent in excess of last year's business and 14% per cent over 1926.

We are entering the second quarter with orders which show promise of doubling the business done during the months of April, May and June a year ago.

We do not expect for a car in the Marmon price class is ordinarily recommended particularly with the larger cities, a large part of the present gain is coming from rural districts and smaller communities which is one of the most interesting signs from the standpoint of general business interest.

Another tendency which has been of great interest from a sales standpoint is the demand among spring buyers for cars of all-season utility. Our body plant is producing either a closed or convertible car to every open car. In fact to meet the demand for the convertible type we're introducing this month a four passenger convertible phaeton which was one of the best-selling models in the Marmon line last year.

PASSING OF HELIGOLAND.

The report that Heligoland, Germany's former great naval rendezvous, is crumbling away under the assault of the North Sea and, more particularly because of the terrific explosions incident to the destruction of the huge German fortification is interesting. If true, it makes the close of a chapter that Englishmen especially wish never had been written. Less than a mile in length, this island made history.

It was seized from Denmark by Great Britain in 1807, the two countries being in a state of war at the time. Britain held it until 1890, when Lord Salisbury, who was then premier, traded it to Germany for territory in Africa. Germany got all the better of that bargain. Shortly afterwards it began to fortify the island—to what purpose history since 1914 records.

Under the bristling guns and immense bastions of Heligoland the German ships rode in security. Out of that sinister haven came the U-boats to terrorize the world. The Allied fleets could not attack it. In every sense it was another Gibraltar. Now this minute isle, so ineptly called "the holy land" is shuffling into the sea as the work of destroying the fortification under the terms of peace treaty continues. The world should be glad to see it go. It is a bitter memory.

NO MORE CHRISTMAS CARDS

Woman Has Made Up Her Mind to Make Real Gifts to Friends at Next Holiday Season.

"Next Christmas—" started Mrs.

"Yeh, I know," interrupted Mr.

"Next Christmas," placidly pursued Mrs., "I shall give all gifts and no cards at all."

"Huh!" grunted Mr. "What'd y' want to do—bankrupt us?"

"Not at all," replied his wife. "I won't spend a cent more than I spent this year. But I've sworn off cards. They don't mean anything any longer. Business firms and banks send them out. They're as common as flies in summer. I'm going to send all gifts, and I'm sure every one will be better pleased all around."

"But just how," inquired Mr., "just how are you going to do this with no extra money?"

"Easy," she answered. "Oh, they'll be humble gifts, of course! But the elaborate cards they get out nowadays cost as much as small gifts. Our cards cost 50 cents apiece and we bought 20. Now, why not 40 cent presents instead? They carry twice as much sentiment. All our friends will think better of us and we save money."

"Mhuh!" said Mr., returning to his paper.

EXAMPLE OF WASTED LABOR

One Philadelphia Shop Employs Sixty-Eight Girls to Pack a One-Pound Box of Candy.

Sixty-eight girls in a Philadelphia candy factory are needed to pack a one-pound box of candy, writes "Observer" in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

I saw the candy boxes filled in an electric plant attended by two men. Five boilers under the engines of 20,000 horse power.

There you behold a waste of labor and result.

In the case to meet the whims of confection eaters, all that immense labor is employed to get individual pieces of candy in a box. In the other instance, a machine, tended by a few millions of capital invested in other machines, can generate electric power sufficient to turn heavy wheels over a distance of scores of miles.

At other places you may see capital pick up a freight car and dump its contents into a shop as you would put a spoonful of sugar in your coffee.

Lucky that somebody has money to buy such big machines to do our work. Otherwise you would be paying treble for what you get.

Veteran Indian Dead.

The death of Waputuk (Big Old Quinault (Wash.) Indian reservation at the reputed age of one hundred and seven removes the last survivor of the original band which made the famous treaty with the government in 1856. Waputuk died in abject poverty, although he owned a timber claim worth many thousands of dollars.

While there is no way of computing the age of the old Indians who are now passing, Waputuk has long been known as the oldest of the tribe.

Born near the little town of Tahola, Wash., more than a century ago, he lived to see his father's wigwam replaced by a thriving town of modern homes. Built with large physique, Waputuk took up the burden of warfare when quite young and was acknowledged one of the best bow-and-arrow shots in the tribe. With the coming of the white man Waputuk moved farther and farther up the Quinault, hunting and fishing, living the lazy, indolent life of the fish-eating tribes of Puget sound.

Whence Inspiration Comes.

The thoughtful suburbanite was talking on the 7:44 out of Umpletown, says the New York Sun.

"Now, some folks," he said, "think best on a rapidly-moving train. Scribbler, for instance, told me that he gets most of his movie plots out of the air as he is being carried along the rails. Others find walking briskly and alone a great stimulus to thought. Some men tell me they get their greatest ideas while dawdling in a warm bathtub.

"Personally I find nothing more induces thought than shoveling a heavy fall of snow from our sidewalk and driveway. But unfortunately we don't have more than three or four heavy snowfalls a year."

"So that explains it," murmured Catleigh across the aisle. And the first speaker is still puzzling over what he meant.

Fast French Bombing Plane.

France is to have the first plane equipped with a 75-millimeter gun, a giant for night bombardment, constructed by the Service Technique du Sous Secretariat d'Etat de l'Aeronautique. It is entirely of metal, propelled by four motors of 400 horse power each, is 6 meters high, has a wing spread of 30 meters, while the fuselage is 20 meters in length. The carrying surface of the wings is 220 square meters and the total weight of the plane, fully equipped, is ten metric tons. The plans call for a speed of 150 kilometers per hour.

An Old Nickel.

"Say, can't you give me an old nickel you can spare? I need a cup of coffee pretty bad."

A pedestrian on the Rock Island Station made this request and he put a slight emphasis on the adjective. It was the same he would have used if he had asked for an old hat or an old pair of shoes. He merely wanted an old nickel that had served its purpose and was no longer of use to the owner.

"It may have been unintentional, a mere slip of the tongue," said the man who was approached, "if gave him the coin he asked for and I have been wondering ever since what was going through his mind." —Chicago Journal.

MUCH LIKE HEN IN AMERICA

Guinea Pigs in Peru Are Kept to Serve as Provisions for the Unexpected Visitor.

Hiram Bingham, the new lieutenant governor of Connecticut, has just published a book, "Inca Land," in which he describes the famous Yale expedition into Peru, of which he was the director. Life as he lived in the Andes has a number of points of difference from that in the New England states. For instance, he says that in Peru the housewife keeps fat little guinea pigs running around her kitchen floor to fill in for any emergencies, much as the American will have a few tins of sardines and cans of preserves on hand. A guinea pig, he points out, is, in spite of Ellis Parker Butler, not a pig, and it does not come from Guinea. It is more of a rabbit than anything else, and for thousands of years it has been a prized article of food in the Andes of Peru. Why the workers should the North American guinea pig be kept only as pets or laboratory victims? The flavor, he says, is delicious and not unlike squab.

SEVENTY THOUSAND NEW TELEPHONES WILL BE ADDED TO THE BELL SYSTEM IN PENNSYLVANIA THIS YEAR

At the beginning of the year there were more than three-quarters of a million Bell telephones in the state.

Every new telephone added requires new wire, new central office equipment, new switchboard facilities.

And new efforts on the part of the twenty thousand Bell Telephone people, who build, maintain, and operate the system.

Seventy thousand new telephones in one year is the essential part of our program to keep pace with Pennsylvania's telephone needs.

TELEPHONE WORKERS RECEIVE VAIL MEDALS

Announcement has just been made of the award of Theodore N. Vail Bronze Medals for the year 1922 by the Bell Telephone Company. These medals are awarded each year, "from a fund created by a gift of the late President of the Bell System, to telephone workers who have performed conspicuous acts of gallant service." Above are shown the recipients of the 1922 awards.

Miss Yeager, Mrs. Toughill and Mrs. Allen were operating the Merchantville, N. J., telephone exchange on the night of October 22, 1922, when fire broke out in the building. The women remained at the switchboard until the water and falling plaster put it out of service.

Mrs. Bassett on the night of July 3, 1922, was on duty at the Hammonton central office when a fast passenger train was wrecked near there and many killed or injured. Ten lines went out of service but with characteristic initiative she called all the doctors, Red Cross nurses, police department and all the telephone subscribers who she thought would be of any assistance in the emergency, and brought almost the entire community to the assistance of the injured.

Miss Salter was operating the switchboard in the St. Marys central office at 2:45 A. M. on October 28, 1922, when a bolt of lightning struck in the rear of the building in which the exchange is located, broke out. Despite terrific noise from the lightning flash and crashing timbers of the switchboard, she remained at her post of duty, kept necessary communications with the fire department, police and physician, and then, although badly shaken up, she helped to put out the fire. As a result of her presence of mind all the lines were saved by that time. As it began to fall she heard someone pounding on the door, found girl gagged by a burglar who had ransacked the house.

Miss McCarthy was on duty in the Barnesboro central office on the morning of November 6, 1922, when an explosion at the Spangler Mine killed and injured a number of men. Immediately she called all nearby physicians and mine officials and although she knew that a relative had been trapped in the mine, she remained at her position for twenty-four hours to handle the extra large number of telephone calls.

Thomas Lawrence Hogan on the night of May 20, 1922, was a passenger on a trolley car which struck a woman. He directed the work of getting her from beneath the wheels and then rendered first aid, which physicians said probably saved her life.

Firestone

will not increase prices until May 1st

Firestone Prices on Fabric and Cord Passenger Car Tires and Tubes, also Solid and Pneumatic Truck Tires Will Advance May 1st

The postponement of this price revision is possible only because of our realization of the price danger in the British Crude Rubber Restriction Act which became effective November 1, 1922. We were fortunate in our rubber purchases before the Restriction Act increased the price of crude rubber 150%.

We have always endeavored to champion the cause of better made tires delivered at lowest cost to the tire user by economic manufacturing and distribution. And we are glad of the opportunity to give the car owner the additional saving at this time.

Firestone Cords embody certain special processes which result in their producing mileage records, heretofore unheard-of in the industry. Among the more important of these superior methods are blending, tempering, air-bag cure and double gum-dipping.

Firestone Dealers are co-operating with us in our movement to supply your needs at present prices as long as their stock lasts and we have advised our dealers that we will supply them with additional tires this month only so far as our output will permit.

See the nearest Firestone Dealer. Purchase a set of these Gum-Dipped Cords. Prove for yourself their remarkable mileage advantages and easy riding qualities.

A HIDE TO THE DAIRY

SUGGESTIONS ON DAIRY CALF

Great Care and Attention Is Necessary to Raise Animal Successfully on Skim Milk.

In dairying the farmer should raise his own calves. Many farmers are not successful in raising them on skim milk. Whole milk may produce the best calf, but not necessarily the best cow. As good an animal can be produced on skim milk as can be produced on whole milk, but greater care and attention is required in producing the former.

The calf should nurse its mother for the first few days, after which it should be removed and fed by hand. Whole milk, warm and fresh from the mother, should be given for ten days or two weeks at least. Ten to twelve pounds per day in two or three feeds should be given at first, and the length of time that it should be continued depends upon the strength of the calf. Ordinarily ten days to two weeks will be required to make the change from whole milk to skim milk.

Gradually substitute skim milk for whole milk, increasing the former until the whole milk is entirely replaced. This may be in a week, or it may be a month or more, but whole milk should be warm and sweet when fed as cold, sour milk is the greatest cause of scours. It may be fed for six or seven months, depending largely upon the supply. It should be given until the calf is five months of age at least.—Extension Service, Colorado Agricultural College.

SMUTTY SILAGE FED SAFELY

No Harm Follows Test Made by Expert in Feeding Tainted Material to Holstein Heifer.

Smutty silage can be fed to live stock with no danger of ill consequences, says T. W. Gullickson of the dairy husbandry division at University farm at St. Paul. Not so long ago many inquiries were being received at the dairy division headquarters regarding the advisability of feeding smut-infested corn in the form of ensilage. To answer these questions authoritatively Mr. Gullickson had collected some 800 pounds of pure corn smut, which he ran through the ensilage cutter and put in sacks which he placed in the silo and covered with about ten feet of ensilage. A few months later the corn smut in the bags was substituted for the regular silage ration and fed to a Holstein heifer at the rate of 18 to 30 pounds a day. The heifer was not forewarned of the abrupt change in her diet, but took no exceptions to the corn-smut menu, appearing in fact to relish it. Mr. Gullickson says the feeding of the smut was continued for three weeks, during which the heifer remained normal in every respect.

PUMPKIN SEEDS NUTRITIOUS

Mistaken Idea to Think That Material Will Increase Kidney Secretions in Cows.

There is a tradition among some farmers that pumpkin seeds increase kidney secretions, tend to dry up cows, and therefore should not be fed. There is no real foundation for such an opinion. Pumpkin seeds are nutritious and should not be wasted. There is no danger whatsoever in feeding them to dairy cows.

CAREFULLY WATCH ALL COWS

Animal Losing Flesh Rapidly Probably Needs More Feed, or More Balanced Ration.

Watch the cows. The animal that loses flesh rapidly probably needs more feed, or a more perfectly balanced ration. When a cow takes on fat instead of giving a full flow of milk, it is probable she needs more protein and less carbohydrates in her ration.

Lacking in Cow Ration.

It is a well-known fact that lime and phosphorus are the ash conditions that are frequently lacking in the ration of the average dairy cow and especially during the dry period.

Keep Quarters Clean.

Dairy cattle quarters must be kept clean and the manure removed daily from the stalls.

DAIRY MINES

DELICATE TASTE OF BUTTER

Good Flavors Find Their Way Into Product in Same Way as Those Objectionable.

Good flavors find their way into milk and butter in somewhat the same way as do undesirable flavors. A dairyman whose farm-made butter is in high demand because of its exceptional flavor, holds that prompt cooling of the milk, clean water for his cows, and sweet feeds, are the factors chiefly responsible. If milk needs to be pasteurized in order to overcome a disagreeable flavor, or if cream has to be neutralized before it is placed in the churn, the resulting product will be lacking in that delicate taste which is characteristic of the best quality of butter. Furthermore, it will soon grow strong once it is removed from storage. Every dairyman knows that strong feed will result in undesirable flavors, both in milk and butter. The rapidity with which stable odors are taken up by milk also is understood. The fact that the prompt removal of animal heat from freshly drawn milk affects its flavor is less fully appreciated. Yet the proper cooling of milk is one of the points of dairy practice which is easy of accomplishment on most dairy farms. A bit of thoughtfulness at this point will work wonders in dairy products.

DEHORN CATTLE WHEN YOUNG

Treatment of Calves by the Use of Caustic Potash Is Simple and Recommended.

[illegible] practice of removing horns of [illegible] is a cruel business, strongly [illegible] by humane societies. The dairy department of the New Jersey Agricultural [illegible] says:

At birth the horns appear as horny [illegible] of hair. Later these structures develop on the skin above the skull, and later become attached to the skull proper. These are the beginnings of horns and while in this early stage should be killed with caustic potash. First clip the hair away carefully around the spot to be treated, then with a stick of caustic potash moistened in water, rub the skin over the small horn until the skin is broken. Sticks of this kind can be procured at any drug store.

Care should be taken not to use too much water as it may run down the side of the face and cause sores. Dehorning with caustic should take place when the calf is from three to ten days old.

PUREBRED BULL IS FAVORED

Farmers and Dairymen Cannot Afford to Continue Use of Scrub or Grade Animals.

Farmers and dairymen cannot continue to use scrub or grade bulls, says A. C. Baer, professor of Dairy Husbandry at the A. and M. college. Profitable dairying depends on, (1) good breeding; (2) weeding out poor cows; (3) good feeding.

A purebred bull will improve all dairy herds which are not now headed by a purebred bull, Mr. Baer says. Farmers or dairymen can very often club together and buy a bull which costs more than an ordinary purebred male. Whenever possible, a herd bull should be from a tested dam with a good record.

TO AVOID CURD IN BUTTER

Trouble Is Generally Due to Excessive Souring of Cream, Which Can Be Prevented.

Curd in butter is generally due to excessive souring of the cream. When this occurs, the casein in the cream curdles, and it may appear in the butter. To avoid this, churn cream before it has soured to an excessive degree.

Handle Heifer Kindly.

A heifer of nervous disposition should be handled very kindly. Severe and abusive measures are very likely to intensify the trouble.

Exercise Keeps Bull Busy.

Exercise as a means of giving the bull something to occupy his mind plays an important part in keeping him in good humor and out of mischief.

DAIRY POINTS

KEEP YOUNG HEIFER GROWING

Winter Rations for Animal Important if Profitable Milk Producer Is Expected.

The dairy heifer, since she is for the present unproductive, is likely to be neglected after the problem of feeding is ended. To keep the young stock growing normally during the winter months the department of dairy husbandry of the Missouri College of Agriculture suggests the following rations:

If silage and clover or alfalfa hay are available, feed from two to five pounds of corn or other farm-grown grains available, depending upon the age of the animals. Heifers close to calving time can profitably be fed somewhat larger quantities of grain.

If silage is available but no clover or alfalfa hay, a good ration would consist of silage and fodder or mixed hay with a grain mixture consisting of equal parts of corn and linseed meal. Cottonseed meal or gluten feed may be fed in place of linseed meal.

Where clover or alfalfa hay is fed alone dairy heifers will do fairly well, Heifers Are Often Neglected When Cold Weather Sets In.

but will not make normal growth. About two pounds of corn daily will improve the ration somewhat.

When only corn fodder or timothy hay is on hand it is generally best to purchase some clover or alfalfa hay and feed equal parts of the two roughages. A good ration for this rough are one part of tankage to five parts of corn to one of linseed meal.

ICE WATER FOR DAIRY COWS

Animals Drink It as Much as Human Beings in Winter, Says Kansas Dairyman.

Although people drink considerable quantities of ice water in summer, they do not like it in cold weather. But the only way in which most dairy cows get it in winter, and they like it then as little as do human beings, according to C. H. Gearhart, extension dairyman of the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Cows producing milk require large quantities of water. They will diminish their milk flow rather than drink cold water so often furnished them.

Water which is stored in tanks in winter should be warmed with a tank heater, says Mr. Gearhart. These are made to burn coal, wood, or corncobs. When only one or two cows are to be watered, a teakettle of boiling water will take the chill off of the half barrel of water necessary for them.

GRADING OF CREAM IS URGED

Surest Means of Producing Good Butter, Says Dairy Specialist at University Farm.

Pointing out that cream grading is the surest means of producing good butter, A. J. McGuire, dairy specialist with the university agricultural extension service, adds that Eastern markets are showing butter closer than ever before. "There is real competition," he says, "for the best markets and if cooperative creameries are to hold such markets they must make good butter and say that it is sold as such. A cream-cooling tank on every farm makes cream grading easier, both for creamery men and for patrons. Are you urging it on cooling and cleanliness of cream separators? This should precede cream grading."

METHOD FOR FEEDING COWS

Dusty Hays or Feeds That Are Liable to Taint Milk Should Be Given After Milking.

Hays that are dusty or feeds that are liable to taint milk should be fed after the cow is milked. A fine method for feeding is to feed hay three times a day and silage and grain twice. If grain is fed only once the cow is liable to have digestive troubles and this will affect the milk flow.

Only Safe Bull.

The safe bull is the one that is never given an opportunity to be otherwise, and that is not permitted to run at large in the pasture with the cows.

Feed and Care of Cows.

Regularity in feeding and caring for dairy cows and keeping them comfortable are quite as important as good feeding.

QUESTIONNAIRE.

1. What is Near East Relief?

The chartered organization of the American Government, charged with the responsibility of relieving the need in Bible Lands.

2. What is the nature of the work done by the Near East Relief Organization?

To raise and administer funds in the saving of lives of the unfortunate and oppressed and starving in Bible Lands. Already more than 1,000,000 lives have been saved in this work. Its largest ministry is among orphan children.

3.—Who are the officers and directors of the Near East Relief?

Then are among the leading men of the United States, men selcted from many vocations and from many Religious Denominations, Jews, Protestants and Catholics, men who are much interested in the work of relief and who are themselves the most liberal supporters of the Near East Relief. (See list of officers on Booklet No. 1).

4. What is the overhead expense? How much actually used in relief work?

The report to Congress shows that the overhead expense is less than 6 %, so that over 95 % of all funds contributed are actually used for the work.

5. How do you know that 95% of the funds raised goes to relief proper?

The character and type of men who administer the organization should be full proof of this statement but in addition to their statement to Congress all receipts and expenditures are careful audited each year by authorized public accountants

6. Why the great need of help in Bible Lands.

During the early years of the War one million Armenians were deported and eight hundred thousand massacred. During the past year many more thousand have been killed and all Christian population of Herd out of Turkish territory. It is principally the care of the orphan children which demands your help.

7. Why continue to care for these orphan children if Europe is to be destroyed sooner or later by the Turks?

It is the policy of the Near East Relief to move all children to scenes of safety. This is being accomplished and orphans are sheltered where proper protection can be guaranteed.

8. Why is this appeal continued year after year?

The care of children can not be temporary. The work must be carried on until these boys and girls are able to maintain themselves.

9. Will a time come when appeals for this work will end?

Only, should be time come when America ceases to be the most favored country of the world or the Near East the most needy and deserving.

10. These sad conditions are due to the atrocities of the Turks, why should I feel responsible?

You are not responsible for Turkish atrocities. Neither did Christ raise the question of responsibility for the thieves who robbed the man on the Jerico road. His teaching was responsible for the man who suffered at the hands of the thieves. Your responsibility is to the victims of Turkish atrocities.

11. Should the United States alone engage in this work of relief?

Our Country is not alone in this work. In addition to the organizations in Europe there are organizations for Near East Relief in Japan, Korea, the Phillipines, Australia, New Zealand and Canada.

12 Will the appeal of Near East Relief be duplicated during the year?

Near East Relief is always glad to have the co-operation of, and to receive contributions from churches, other organizations and individuals at anny time but this is the only direct organization appeal which will be made during he year 1923. This is to be Smethport's contribution to the orphans in the Near East. If you have already contributed through or are a member of some organization which has contributed to Near East Relief, do not think that sufficient if you are in any way able to give more. This appeal is to you personally.

13. How much am I expected to give,ma. how much is Smethport expected to raise for Near East Relief?

No one is presumed to set the size of your contribution or of the amount to be contributed by the people of Smethport. No contribution of any individual, large or small, should influence your gift. Any help will be for the saving of lives and each one must decide what he or she can give. Every dollar helps save a life and make the condition of a child more liveable. Just keep in mind the comforts and blessings of your children of Smethport and the dire need of the children in Bible Lands and try to balance the difference. If, "freely ye have received freely give.

14. How do you wish my contribution, cash or pledge?

You may contribute one cash payment now, or payment payable at any time within six months or in monthly payments over one year. Cards are provided for your pledge.

15 May I know what my help will accomplish?

$60.00 contributed, will give life to a starving child for one year. Saving a life for a week of even a day may be the saving to manhood or womanhood of a child. You will help care for 110,000 children now in American Orphanages, help in the maintenance of 15 rescue homes and 63 hospitals. Help feed 500,000 refugees daily. At least one million people are alive to-day because of the American generosity in the Near East. Inasmuch as ye have done it unto me of the least of these, my bretheren, ye hav done it unto Me."

Make checks payable to Near East Relief.
